(2008 Replacement Volume and 2013 Supplement)

Preamble

WHEREAS, Violence Risk of injury is a problem in many health care settings in the State and across the nation and, although violence is an increasing problem for many workers, health care workers are at particularly high risk; and

WHEREAS, According to a 2010 study by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, violence in the Maryland health care and social assistance industry accounts for 72% of workplace assaults; and
WHEREAS, The actual incidence of violence injury is likely higher than reported for several reasons, including inadequate reporting mechanisms and because victims underreport incidents out of fear of reprisal, isolation, and shame; and

WHEREAS, Violence against health care workers being injured on the job exacts a significant toll on victims, their co-workers, patients, families, health care facilities, and visitors to health care facilities; and

WHEREAS, Workers’ compensation and insurance claims, lost productivity, disruptions to operations, legal expenses, and property damage are only a few of the negative effects that workplace violence has on health care facilities; and

WHEREAS, Health care professionals who leave their occupations because of assault injury or threats of assault risk of injury contribute to the significant problems of recruitment, retention, and shortage of health care workers; and

WHEREAS, It is possible to reduce and mitigate the effects of violence risk of injury in health care facilities through employer–based violence prevention workplace safety programs; now, therefore,
